

Andreas is currently reshaping the investment industry by building Europe's leading gateway for qualified investors and financial advisors seeking access to world-class absolute return and alternative investment strategies such as hedge funds, private equity, private debt, venture capital, and real assets, among others.

Andreas Bezner, CFA, is an alternative investment and equities specialist, co-founder, and Managing Partner of Stableton. Before co-founding Stableton, Andreas has been managing Finest Funds AG, the innovative equity- and ETF-based asset management firm.

Also, Andreas worked for a Zurich-based hedge fund and a renowned multi-billion Swiss wealth manager. Before starting Finest Funds, Andreas successfully sold his hedge fund and investment management firm, which he had founded in 2006, and where he served as co-CEO and portfolio manager, specializing in long/short equity strategies. Before this, Andreas co-managed a Swiss exchange-listed public equity investment company and worked for a global top-4 audit firm where he had started his career, initially as a transaction advisory analyst.

Andreas is an active business angel and founding investor in multiple startup companies. Andreas is a CFA Charterholder, and holds a degree in economics (MSc Economics) from the University of Hohenheim, Germany, with specializations in banking, finance, and entrepreneurship.
